Choose a person who suffered for the sake of justice.

Research these points and include them in your report:

- Name of person
- Date and place of birth
- Person's early life (e.g. the things or people that influenced them in their early years)
- Situations or events that challenged the person to show true courage and strength
- Suffering the person embraced in the pursuit of justice
- What you learned about human courage and love from this person's life story
- How this person's example influenced your attitude toward suffering in your own life

Finally, present a summary of your findings to your class group. This can be in the form of a report, a collage of images and stories, a PowerPoint presentation or other media format.
